

ITALIANS PUSH INTO ETHIOPIA ON THREE FRONTS

FEDERAL MEN GUARD NORTH-WESTERN LINE

Protect the Trains Against Milk Strikers in Northern Illinois

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—United States Deputy Marshalls were ordered out today to protect Chicago & Northwestern Railroad trains traveling through the Chicago milk "strike" area in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

The order was issued by Federal Judge John P. Barnes after the road reported "strike" pickets had stopped passenger and mail trains by piling lumber on the rails.

Tank cars loaded with milk have been seized, and their contents dumped along the right-of-way in a number of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin counties since October 1, Samuel H. Cady, general counsel of the railroad, said in a petition for protection.

Deputy sheriffs guarded the C. & N. W. tracks in McHenry county after farmer-pickets threw ties on the rails to stop a train at Ringwood last yesterday. The strikers were hunting milk-loaded tank cars, but they picked the wrong train.

Sheriffs Inadequate
Deputy sheriffs of Illinois and Wisconsin counties have failed to protect property, and the few state police who have been called out are "unable to cope with the situation," Paul Potter, secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., charged.

A compromise offer to the strikers' demand for a price increase to $2.50 a hundredweight had little apparent effect.

The dealers predicted there would be desertions from the strikers' ranks after they signed an agreement late last night with the Pure Milk Association—producers group that normally supplies 95 per cent of the market—giving the farmer $1.75 a hundredweight for 90 per cent instead of 55 per cent of his quota.

Forecast Unfulfilled
This forecast failed to materialize, reports from upstate counties indicated.

Dealers were rationing their supply to fulfill minimum needs of the city and suburbs. They admitted that 25 to 30 per cent of the normal flow had been stopped, and refused to guarantee of full supply after today.

They promised, however, to keep hospitals fully supplied "at any cost."

Sheriff Henry Nulle said that picketing in Kane and McHenry counties in Illinois was so effective yesterday that, as far as authorities could determine, not a quart of milk went through to Chicago.

In Wisconsin pickets dumped 650 gallons of milk from one truck whose driver attempted to get through near Walworth.

Near Plato Center, Ill., wives of pickets assisted in dumping 28,000 gallons from two trucks. Near Marengo 300 pickets halted a truck with 13,000 gallons.

No Trespassing

Delaware, O., Oct. 4.—(AP)—William Harsh has a brood sow to help him keep trespassers off his farm.

Glade Ballard was strolling through woods in which "no hunting" signs were posted, when the sow left her litter of seven and attacked him. A physician treated him for leg lacerations.

LONDON HEARS BRITISH FORCE MOVES FORWARD

London, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The British public today was concerned with two matters—the news of the Italian advance into Ethiopia and rumors that British troops were on the move in the trouble zone.

Unconfirmed reports current for several days that troops in India were ready to embark for Aden on the southern end of the Red Sea, were revived again and went undiminished in official circles. There, again, it was said that no official information was available.

The British fleet now appears to be almost completely mobilized in the Mediterranean and Red Seas, while all indications point to heavy British airplane reinforcements in that sector, particularly around the Suez Canal.

Ambassador Dino Grandi of Italy, called on Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, and they conversed for 40 minutes. When Grandi departed he refused to make a statement.

POTATO CONTROL ENFORCEMENT IS LOOMING NEARER

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Reluctantly, the agricultural adjustment administration headed today toward enforcement of the controversial potato control law as testimony in the second day of hearings continued overwhelmingly to demand that course.

Scattered voices from small producing areas opposed the compulsory control law or favored voluntary methods, but the great bulk of commercial potato growing sentiment was favorable to the law enacted by the last congress.

One of the few dissenting voices was from Connecticut. W. S. Midgough said growers in that state were opposed to the pending control plan because they felt they would be penalized by allotments based on past production.

Without commenting on any particular plan, Don E. Montgomery, AAA consumers' counsel, warned that the consumers would not approve any plan to make potatoes scarce.

Good Judgment

Newark, N. J., Oct. 4.—(AP)—As Frederick Keith, charged with relief chiseling, went on trial the court offered to assign a lawyer to defend him. He refused, and argued his own case.

"You showed much common sense in refusing counsel," said the judge. Keith beamed, thinking he had won.

"No lawyer could possibly help you with such a poor defense," the court added. "I find you guilty and will continue you on parole for sentence October 15."

Bond Issue to Provide City's Share of Cost of Sewage Disposal Plant Will Be Submitted

A representative of the Wells Engineering Company of Geneva met last evening with members of the city council in the office of Mayor William J. Slothower to discuss plans for the proposed sewage treatment plant here. The engineering firm was instructed to prepare new plans and estimates at once, the council rescinding all former plans. The city of Dixon was recently granted federal aid to the extent of 45 per cent of the total cost of the proposed plant under the Public Works Administration program.

Mayor Slothower today stated that the council was unanimously in favor of proceeding with the construction of a sewage treatment plant for Dixon under the PWA plan.

"Inasmuch as the federal government will extend to Dixon a 45 per cent grant in building such a plant, the council feels that it will be remiss in its duties in not taking advantage of this plan whereby almost one-half the cost

GREENBERG IS OUT OF WORLD SERIES GAMES

Loss of Slugger May be Blow to Chances of Detroit Team

Wrigley Field, Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Harassed by the problem of replacing Hank Greenberg, injured cleanup hitter and first baseman, the Detroit Tigers with the submarine hurler Elden Auker in the box faced the Chicago Cubs today on a new battlefield in the third game of the World Series.

Thoroughly upset by the terrific blow to the Tigers' chances, Mickey Cochrane, in a last minute decision, sent Marvin Owen, his regular third baseman, across the infield to first and stationed Herman "Flea" Clifton, young reserve infielder, on third after a long series of clubhouse and field conferences.

All chance of Greenberg recovering sufficiently from wrist injuries in the first two games, divided with one victory each, disappeared when his swollen arm failed to respond to treatment.

Greenberg, considered the most valuable player in the American League, home run champion with Jimmy Foxx and leader in runs batted in, apparently was out of the entire series even though it goes the seven game limit.

With Greenberg out, Cochrane merely lifted the lower section of his batting order up one place, with Goose Goslin hitting fourth in the cleanup position, and Clifton eighth, ahead of the pitcher.

Loss of Greenberg, a crushing blow at this stage of the proceedings, stirred up most of the excitement surrounding the start of the series here as the Chicago fans failed to turn out in the numbers expected. There were wide gaps in the bleacher seats erected beyond the left and right field walls. The crowd totaled little more than 40,000, though the sun shone brightly, and the weather was considerable warmer than that of the two frigid days in Detroit.

Lee vs. Auker
Otherwise the only shift in the playing cast involved the pitchers, with Chicago's big Bill Lee, freshman right-hander, named to oppose Elden Auker, the Tigers' submarine ball right-hander, in the third game of the championship battle.

The national championship band of the American Legion paraded around the field and participated in the raising of the Stars and Stripes to the centerfield pole.

FIRST INNING
Detroit—White swung at the third strike, but Hartnett dropped the ball and threw to first for the putout. Cochrane bounced one through the box and was safe when the ball went through Herman, an error. Gehring grounded out. Hack to Cavarretta, Cochrane taking second. Goslin popped to Jurgens.

No runs, no hits, one error, one left.
Cubs—Galan singled to right. Herman fanned. Lindstrom scratched a single along the third base line, sending Galan to third, on a hit and run play. Hartnett grounded into a double play, Rothermel to second, Lindstrom to first.

Where Italians Struck First Blow of War

The above map shows where the Italians struck in their initial smash of the long-threatened war on Ethiopia, with Addis Ababa their first major objective, this being the scene of the disastrous Italian rout in 1896 by King Menelik's troops. Addis Ababa, to the east, and several nearby towns were minor objectives in the advance, as the Italians crossed the Mareb river at various points.

SISTERS' HOME; SCHOOL TO BE BLESSED SUNDAY

Bishop Hoban to Confirm Classes Here on Same Visit

Next Sunday morning at St. Patrick's church, His Excellency, the Most Reverend Edward F. Hoban, will celebrate a Pontifical High Mass at 10:30 A. M. Preceding the mass, however, he will bless the Sisters' new home and the school, both of which have been completely remodeled and redecorated during the summer. Returning from the school the procession, accompanying the Bishop, composed of men of the Holy Name Society, choir boys, altar boys and the visiting clergy, will proceed to the church where His Excellency will vest for mass, assisted at the Throne by the Reverend John Hackett and David Murphy. Deacon and Sub-deacon of the mass will be appointed later. Monsignor Francis Conron and Reverend Walter Ryan will act as masters of ceremonies.

To Confirm Classes.
In the afternoon the Sacrament of Confirmation will be conferred by His Excellency at the colony, on a class of approximately one hundred and twenty-five, at 3:00 P. M. Following the conferring of this Sacrament will be Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Returning immediately to St. Patrick's church in Dixon, His Excellency will again confer the Sacrament of Confirmation on a class of about one hundred children and twenty-five adults. The Holy Name Society will form a guard of honor for His Excellency from the parish rectory to the church. Solemn Pontifical Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will complete the services of the day.

Trial of Alleged Mutilation Slayer Put Over to Oct. 9

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Trial of Mandeville W. Zenge, Criminal, Mo. carpenter, for the mutilation slaying of Dr. Walter J. Bauer, was put over to Oct. 9 by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington today.

Judge Harrington granted Zenge's attorney permission to interview Mrs. Louise Bauer of Kilsville, Mo., the doctor's widow, who filed Zenge shortly before they were to have married, and William Leinbert, a taxi driver. Leinbert is reported to be a "star state witness."

Dr. Bauer was found in his automobile on Chicago's south side the morning of July 31, dying from a crude emasculation operation.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty said he would qualify the jury for the death penalty.

Greece Alarmed by Italian Movements

Athens, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Reports that Italy was concentrating heavy forces of men, bombing planes and war supplies in the Dodecanese islands stirred furries of apprehension here today. One report was that 15,000 men already had been secretly landed under cover of night.

Twenty-five large bombing planes, the reports said, have arrived at various islands. All hospitals were described as full to capacity with cases of tropical fever contracted in East Africa.

TERSE ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED IN DIXON DURING DAY

NEICE IS DEAD.

ALMOST WINTER.

The advance guard of winter reached this community in earnest last night, sending the mercury in the government thermometer at Shuck & Bates store down to 24 above zero—eight degrees below freezing—and brought destruction to growing gardens.

TO WARM HANGAR.

Promoter Ed Hooker said today that boxing fans need not fear the airport hangar will be cold tonight when the boxing matches are staged at 8:30 P. M. The large furnace will be stoked and a roaring fire will warm the place to a comfortable heat before the going sounds.

DeWitt County is Celebrating Its Centennial Today

Clinton, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A four-day celebration of the centennial of DeWitt county was in progress today in Clinton, the county seat. Daughters of the American Revolution dedicated a tablet yesterday on the spot where history has it Jesse W. Fell and James Allin stopped during an exact journey westward in 1834. The county dates its beginning from the erection in 1835 of the first school house. Loring C. Merwin, great grandson of Fell and associate editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph, was guest of honor at the unveiling of the memorial tablet.

WHIPP GLAD HE ESCAPES THOMPSON EXECUTION

Warden's Resignation is Effective Night Rapist Gets Chair

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Warden Frank D. Whipp of the state prisons here today declared that he was glad his resignation would make it unnecessary for him to give the signal for the execution of Gerald Thompson, Peoria sex slayer, Oct. 15.

After notifying the 25-year-old Peoria toolmaker that the Supreme Court had refused to stay the execution, Warden Whipp, who has resigned effective at midnight Oct. 14, said:

"I have long been an opponent of capital punishment, but I have had to follow the course of the law. Naturally, I am glad I do not have to give the signal in this electrocution."

Unless saved by Governor Horner, Thompson will die in the electric chair some time after 12:01 A. M. Oct. 15 for the slaying of Mildred Hallmark, 19, a Peoria cafe hostess whom he killed when she resisted an attack.

Ragen to Signal
Joseph Ragen, who will be Acting Warden when Whipp's resignation becomes effective, will give the signal for Thompson's execution. Three guards, stationed at three switches outside the execution chamber, will pull them simultaneously.

Two will be "dummies." The third will send a death-dealing current of electricity through Thompson's body. The guards will not know which switch is active.

Badly shaken when Whipp told him his fate today, Thompson said: "I am ready to die. If I have to go it's as good a way as any. I am spiritually ready to die, but of course I still want to live."

Charged "Railroading"
The next step in the fight to save him, he said, "is up to my lawyer." Asked whether Horner's aid would be sought he did not answer.

Then he launched into a denunciation of the prosecution at the trial which resulted in his conviction.

"I was railroaded," he declared.

2000 Casualties are Reported Among Ethiopian Forces

Occupation "Mere Policing" Italy Tells League

BULLETIN.
London, Oct. 4.—(AP)—An authoritative source stated tonight that the British delegates are prepared to walk into the League of Nations headquarters at Geneva tomorrow demanding that the league council sit in immediate judgment on Italy's guilt or innocence in the invasion of Ethiopia.

It was likewise stated that Great Britain wants the council to render a quick verdict, thus paving the way for the application of Article XVI of the covenant—the article concerned with the application of sanctions, punishments, against any nation which violates the peace of member nations.

It was suggested that the council might reach its decision before sundown tomorrow and call upon the league assembly to sit in judgment Monday as to what penalties if any should be assessed against Italy.

(Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press)

Geneva, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Italian delegation told The Associated Press tonight that Italy was not engaged in war but was applying necessary police measures in Ethiopia.

An Italian spokesman said: "We are taking military police measures to establish order in Ethiopia—an action made necessary by the existing disorder and insecurity reigning on the frontier of our colonies."

Asked if the police measures meant a project to occupy Ethiopia in its entirety, the spokesman replied that this depended upon whether Emperor Haile Selassie became reasonable and ready to enter into discussions.

To Conquer Unarmed
At the same time Emperor Haile Selassie telegraphed to the League of Nations through his foreign minister, that Italy is carrying out its openly proclaimed threat to conquer an unarmed Ethiopia.

Asserting that Italy admitted an invasion of the Agame district and bombardment of two towns with massacre of women and children, Haile Selassie announced that he was determined nevertheless to cooperate with the League.

The emperor was considered by League officials to be making a bid for sanctions against Italy as being justified under article XVI of the League covenant, and to

Wrong Number

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Charles Bick will probably be a little more careful in the future about when and where he does his telephoning.

He went into a cigar store telephone booth to make a call and came out to discover the clerk had closed the store for the night and locked him in.

He finally attracted the attention of a passerby who called police. They had to remove a glass panel from the door to get him out.

Leslie Wentling, Local Carpenter Instantly Killed This Morning in Fall From Roof at Rorer Home

Leslie Wentling, aged 28, 1705 First street, was instantly killed this morning about 9:15 o'clock when he fell from the roof of the Leonard R. Rorer residence, 624 East Fellows street. He fell a distance of about 35 feet, landing on the back of his head on a cement driveway at the east side of the house. Death was almost instantaneous and the body was removed to the Preston mortuary where an inquest will be conducted late this afternoon by Coroner Frank M. Banker.

The young man was in the employ of his cousin, Murray Wentling, local contractor, and was engaged in shingling a cornice on the east end of the roof. No other workman was near him at the time, but it was thought that he slipped in some manner, sliding off the roof. Lester Spencer, stage manager at the Dixon theater, was in a room on the second floor at the time of the accident and observed the body hurtling through the air, falling head downward to the cement driveway.

Other workmen were immediately notified and a physician was summoned, but upon his arrival and examination of the body, he pronounced life extinct. The back of his head had been badly crushed. An ambulance was summoned and the body removed to the Preston mortuary.

He was born and raised in Dixon and had lived in this city his entire life time. He is survived by his father, Jerry Wentling, his widow, one daughter, Mary Ellen, and one sister, Mrs. E. F. Hammill. Funeral services will be conducted from the Grace Evangelical church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. A. D. Snaffer, officiating.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The war of Italy and Ethiopia, launched at gory-historied Addis yesterday, was popping like firecrackers today on a wide area. Italians evidently were pushing into Ethiopia on three fronts. They announced the fall of Addis, "Verdun of Ethiopia," was imminent.

Haile Selassie, conquering Lion of Judah, and Mussolini, who is reaching out for more territory for Italy—and has an eye to avenging the crushing defeat of Italians at Addis in 1896—already were counting their dead.

The losses appeared to have been predominantly Ethiopian. One unconfirmed report was that 2,000 Ethiopians were killed or wounded in heavy fighting just inside the border from Italian Somaliland. Heavy fighting continued there.

The Italians occupied Maibaria, in the Addis sector which is close to Eritrea and Mt. Rama.

Fall of Addis Near
The guns of the Italians commanded Addis, and awaited merely the order that could hardly mean less than the capture of that thriving city of 3,000 persons.

The Ethiopian provincial governor informed his emperor at Addis Ababa, said one report:

"Can't hold Addis much longer under heavy artillery bombardment."

Italian headquarters said Italian tanks outside Addis inflicted heavy casualties.

In Ogaden Province, a bitter territory crowding against Italian Somaliland, the Ethiopians were resisting the death that moved on them. Addis Ababa reported about 200 casualties on each side. A Reuters (British) news agency dispatch fixed the Ethiopian casualty list at 2,000.

Close To Capital

Uncomfortably close to Emperor Selassie's capital, Addis Ababa, French police at Deridawa warned foreigners, including Americans, to evacuate at once. No armed forces as yet menaced this vital community on the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad line but the authorities feared an air raid.

When some residents of Addis Ababa sought refuge in the hills they were turned back by Ethiopian sentries who explained that the hills were reserved as a military area.

The emperor was represented as hoping that the League of Nations, in which he has placed his faith, might still serve to end hostilities. The Italian legation was closely guarded to prevent any violence toward the Italian minister.

While the warriors fought the agencies of peace continued to struggle—at Geneva, at Paris and at London.

CLOSE IN ON ADDIS
Asmara, Eritrea, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Italian sources declared this evening that the fall of Addis, "Verdun of Ethiopia," was imminent.

The Fascist columns had advanced to the hills ten miles away, commanding the plain on which the city is situated.

Bombing planes soared overhead and tanks, lumbering overland, sprayed bullets to lead the advance of the troops into the highlands.

Those forces already in position held their ground without difficulty.

Italians asserted that "very heavy casualties" had been inflicted upon the natives who were terrified by the sight of the death-dealing, mysterious tanks.

An authoritative source declared that while the western advance moved on, 30,000 Italian troops were massed near the border of Italian Somaliland to the eastward, ready to advance into the rich province of Aussa.

Modern Equipment
They were equipped with the most modern engines of war, including the new "scout" tanks' capable of a speed of 45 miles per hour and equipped with two machine guns.

Other columns were reported poised for a drive on Harrar, key city, capital of the province of that name, with the objective of cutting the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railway Ethiopia's only means of bringing in supplies from abroad.

A BIRTHDAY

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

IN a free country every man has a right to have a birthday or not, as he likes it. No woman need have one at all, if she so elect. What does it matter? Life is not a thing of days and years.

It happens to be my birthday, but which one it is no one need know—it is my own affair. How old one depends not upon the number of his years, but upon the white flame that burns within him.

Years ago my friends thought it "indecent," as they said, for one to go to the City Temple in London in the mid-thirties. In behalf of respectability they added two years to my life, which in all fairness and common honesty, ought now to be taken off the calendar.

With me it is the seventh inning of the game, as we say in baseball. The fans stand for a stretch and take "time out" before they settle down for the wind-up. But there is time enough to knock a few home-runs yet.

Nor is the score important, so long as we play the game for the joy of it, rejoicing in contest without conflict and rivalry without rancor. The game is the thing, and to be a sport or a partisan.

Errors there have been and will be, inevitably, and they add to the joy of the game—some of them are so absurd as to be funny others leave a hurt in the heart which lingers even after it heals.

One has many birthdays in a lifetime—the day when love dawns in his heart, the day when he finds a faith to live by and strikes his stride, the day when life lifts its veil and shows its face.

"Time goes; we stay," a poet tells us. Ah, but it goes so swiftly—now a winged moment, now a flying day, now a fleeting year. There is only time to love, to serve, to sing, to suffer, to lend a hand, to look up at the stars, to seek "the one beauty we were sent to find."

Thus a pilgrim passing, sends you greetings and blessings, in his heart a prayer that you and he may make life that beautiful thing it was meant to be, before the falling daylight brings the shadow!

Miss Brooks Will Talk on Personality and Health Oct. 9th

On October 9th at the Methodist church in Amboy Miss Fannie Brooks of the Extension Service at Champaign, Ill. will deliver a lecture "Personality and Health." This meeting will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

All who have had the pleasure of hearing Miss Brooks will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing her again.

The Lee County Home Bureau sponsors this county wide open lecture and all members are invited to bring their friends anyone interested in Home Bureau work.

This same lecture will be given in Dixon on Oct. 10th at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock.

This county is having Miss Brooks come for two days and anyone interested is invited to the lectures, which are open meetings.

Evening Unit At Belcher Home

The Dixon Home Bureau Evening Unit met Wednesday, October 2nd at the home of Mrs. Richard Belcher and a very pleasant evening followed. The home advisor, Mrs. Syverud, gave a very interesting lesson on "Purchasing the Proper Foundation Garment." This subject was discussed and some other business was transacted.

Delicious refreshments were served during the happy social hour.

CLUB TO OPEN SCHEDULE WITH LUNCHEON

The Peoria Avenue Reading Club will open its fall schedule with a luncheon Monday at 1:15 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. B. Morrison, 122 Dement avenue.

Berkley, Mich., Oct. 4—(AP)—A midnight intruder broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoagg and left a baby boy, a $5 bill and a feeding formula.

Cries of the infant awakened them early today. "If everything turns out all right, we'll keep the baby," said Mrs. Hoagg. The Hoaggs have no children.

Delightful Meeting Of Kings Daughters Class on Wednesday

The Foreign Travel Club was entertained on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. S. Mottar, Miss Vera Mae Pool gave an interesting account of her recent trip to Europe. She particularly spoke about the changes which she noted had taken place since her previous visit.

London was in gala dress due to the Silver Jubilee. Motor cars seem to be getting smaller in England and larger in Paris. In England cars are taxed $5 per horse power.

Copenhagen seemed the smartest and gayest capital which she visited. Sweden is accepting modern methods more rapidly than even we Americans. Prices were high in Sweden.

Conditions in Germany seem satisfactory and the conditions which are often reported in our country, are not apparent to the visitor. Dresden, Germany, was a favorite city visited. Rates had been lowered in Germany to encourage foreign tourists as well as their own people.

Many of those present had also visited these same cities and it was a pleasure to have them mentioned.

Miss Pool had on display a beautiful collection of articles brought home with her, including china, glassware, objects of art, knitting, sewing, a lovely sweater, etc., etc.

Halloween Party Enjoyed by Society

Thirty-five members and guests attended the meeting of the E. L. C. Society of the Grace Evangelical church last evening, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herbert, 421 Third avenue.

The meeting was in the form of a hard time Halloween party and the home was prettily decorated accordingly.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. A. D. Shaffer, followed by the business session in charge of the league president.

Miss Audrey Stewart was elected secretary for the remainder of the year. It was decided to have October as the rally month for the league. Each Sunday evening will be in charge of a different department of the league.

The program was in charge of the worship committee led by Darrell Palmer.

Following the program games were enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold Edous, Mrs. A. D. Shaffer, Mrs. Raymond Herbert and Mrs. Nellie Rhodes. All expressed appreciation for the gracious hospitality of the Herbert home.

George Minick, Jr. Weds Chicago Girl

George Minick, Jr., of Maytown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George and Agnes Minick of Amboy and May township, was united in marriage with Miss Nina Marrocco, of Chicago, at the St. Charles Roromoe church, at Chicago, on Sunday, Sept. 29, 1935. This church was celebrating its 50th jubilee at this time. It was beautifully decorated for the celebration and Cardinal Mundelein gave the young couple a special blessing.

The groom's sister, Miss Genevieve Minick, was bridesmaid, and the bride's brother, Frank Marrocco, Jr., acted as best man. Richard Gorton, a cousin of the groom, formerly of Amboy, and Lyle Minick, a brother of the groom, were the ushers.

The bride's father, Frank Marrocco, gave his daughter, Nina, to the groom at the altar. The bride wore a dress of white satin trimmed with lace. She wore a long train and a veil. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Her bridesmaid, Genevieve Minick, wore a pink chiffon crepe dress with blue hat and slippers. She carried a bouquet of red roses. There was a reception held for the wedding party after the ceremony, and a great many of the immediate relatives and friends were present.

The happy bride and groom are planning a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and other points in the east.

WERE DINNER GUESTS AT DIRKSEN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dirksen entertained at their home near Rochelle Sunday the following guests at a fried chicken dinner—Alvin Derr, Mrs. Addie Ross, Mrs. and Mrs. John Derr and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bowers of DeKalb.

AFFORD CHICKEN?

Yes, you can provide your purchase a "stewer" (4 to 6 pounds) and cook it properly. The trick in cooking the chicken is to simmer it (cook very slowly) until chicken falls from bones. Remove chicken from stock and chill latter. Fat will collect on top stock and this can be substituted for butter in cooking. The flavorful stock can be used in soups, stews or sauces. The cooked chicken can be used, browned, creamed, in stews or pies.

Dinner serving Four or Five

Chicken Pie, Family Fashion

Spiced Beets

Bread Currant Jelly

Fresh or Canned Pineapple

Sponge Cake

Coffee

Chicken Pie, Family Fashion

3 tablespoons butter or chicken fat

4 tablespoons flour

2 cups chicken stock or milk

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon paprika

1/4 teaspoon celery salt

1 tablespoon chopped onions

1 cup diced cooked chicken

1/2 cup diced cooked carrots

1/2 cup cooked peas

Melt butter and add flour; when blended add stock and cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add rest of ingredients and pour into buttered shallow baking pan or dish. Cover with "pies."

"Pies"

1 1/2 cups flour

3 teaspoons baking powder

1/4 teaspoon salt

4 tablespoons fat

1/2 cup milk

Mix dry ingredients, cut in fat and add milk. When soft dough forms pat it out until 1/4 inch thick. Cut out "pies" with biscuit cutter and arrange on top chicken mixture. Bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Serve a "pie" per portion.

Spiced Beets

3 cups sliced cooked beets

1 cup vinegar

1/4 cup water

1/4 cup whole pickle spices

1 cup sugar

Mix ingredients and simmer 15 minutes. Cool and chill.

Crusaders Class Enjoy Meeting At Rev. Wm. Thompson Home

The Crusader's Sunday school class of the Brethren church held their monthly class meeting at the home of their pastor, Rev. Thompson and wife, last night. The attendance was better than the average and the fine spirit of the meeting caused everyone to feel at home. The picnic supper was delicious. The entertainment feature was conducted in such a unique way as to cause much fun and merriment and a general good time. The contest of apple eating was won by Roy Glessner, the eating of corn flakes by David Waide, and the writing of John 3:16 by Ada Glessner. Other games and contests were played to the delight of all present and the evening passed quickly. The class thanked Rev. and Mrs. Thompson for their kindness and entertainment before going to their homes. It was decided that the next class meeting will be held the third Thursday in November.

PRESIDENT OF

W. C. T. U. Re-elected

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 4—(AP)—Mrs. W. L. Ferguson, Chicago, has been re-elected president of the Illinois W. C. T. U.

Other officers chosen at the organization's convention yesterday: vice president, Mrs. Winifred Hendricks, Litchfield; treasurer, Miss Ethel Nelson, Galesburg; corresponding secretary, Miss Epha Marshall, Chicago; recording secretary, Mrs. M. B. Rosenthal, Freeport.

Mrs. John Dee 82 Years Old Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Daum of Steward, entertained a few relatives and friends Sunday at their home in honor of Mrs. John Dee, who will celebrate her 82nd birthday next Sunday. Guests from Rochelle were: Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Marxman, Misses Agnes and Marie Sammon, Marie Goyen and Miss Mary Smith of Chicago.

Wawokiye Club Meeting With Mrs. Bert Hoyle Enjoyed

Mrs. Bert Hoyle, residing on the Lincoln Highway west of town, entertained the Wawokiye Club at an all day meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 2nd.

There were 14 members, eight guests and eight children present. The day was raw and chilly, but a glowing fire in the sitting room, fire place lent warmth and a feeling of cheer and coziness.

An especially good dinner was served at noon, and later the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Bert Hoyle. For the opening hymn "Come to the Church in the Wildwood" was sung, Mrs. John Stanley, Jr., accompanying on the piano. Scripture reading was given by Mrs. John Stanley Sr. The minutes of the last meeting were then read by Mrs. Will Castle, secretary.

Roll call was answered by telling of the care of house plants. One member says the waters her plants occasionally with a solution of one table spoon of ammonia to one quart of water. Many other good ideas were given.

As the day set for the picnic had turned out to be too cold and rainy plans were discussed for holding some other entertainment, but nothing was decided on.

Mrs. Charlie Hahn took charge of the program then and gave a very interesting talk on the subject of "Handicraft." This subject proved very interesting and after some discussion it was decided that at the next meeting members should make suggestions for some form of handicraft to be a regular part of the program for next year, these suggestions to be voted on.

A collection of 28 cents was taken for the flower fund.

The closing hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung.

Mrs. Theodore Mossholder, one of the members who has been suffering from a long illness, is improving.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. John Stanley, Sr., east of town, on Wednesday, Nov. 6th. Mrs. Will Castle will have charge of the program, the subject being "Christmas Gifts." Roll call will be answered by telling "What I Have to be Thankful For."

The members expressed to their hosts their appreciation of a very pleasant day.

Pretty Wedding in Lanark Wednesday

Forreston, Ill., Oct. 2—This morning at 8:30 at the parsonage of the German Lutheran church, of Lanark, Rev. L. C. Kloppeper performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Josephine Hiteman, of Forreston and Howard Fuhrmann of Lanark.

The bride wore a green silk dress with hat to match. Miss Erma Hiteman was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a brown knit suit. Merritt Swank of Forreston, was best man.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hiteman of Forreston and was graduated from the Forreston high school with the class of '34.

The groom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fuhrmann, was graduated from the high school at Sun Prairie, Wis., in 1930, and is associated with his father in operating a cannery factory at Lanark. He and his bride left on a trip through Wisconsin and will go to housekeeping in a newly furnished apartment in Lanark when they return.

The South Dixon Community club held a most enjoyable meeting Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Carl Blum.

The usual business meeting was held, songs were sung, and the treasurer's report given.

Each member brought their own fancy work and much was accomplished.

There were two visitors present. The next meeting will be an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Noah Bearo, W. -way, October 16, and each one is to bring their own work.

Mrs. Blum was assisted by Mrs.

Smoking Tabooed

Waco, Tex., Oct. 4—(AP)—Pat Neff, president of Baylor University and formerly governor of Texas, invoked Baylor tradition as he fired three coeds off the university payroll for smoking.

There has been a standing rule against smoking on the campus since the university was founded, and Neff said students would have to do their smoking, if any, "on their own time and off the campus."

Delightful Meeting of Foreign Travel Club Last Night

The King's Daughters' class of Grace Evangelical Sunday school class held a very enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. C. A. Garrison Wednesday afternoon. The Garrison home was decorated with Halloween motifs and autumn flowers. The tempting refreshments were also in keeping with Halloween. The following program was rendered:

The meeting opened with two verses of the class song.

The Scripture lesson, Psalm 91, was read by Mrs. Ed Graves.

Prayer, Mrs. Wm. Petrie, reading of minutes and roll call.

Eighteen members and four visitors were present.

Mrs. Chas. Smith then sang, "October Gave a Party."

Miss Minnie June gave a reading, "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin."

Mrs. Goldmacher gave a reading, "I Never Knewed."

All sang one verse of "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Mrs. E. A. Somers gave a reading, "October's Bright Blue Weather."

Then a visitor, Mrs. A. T. Owens of Polo, favored with two readings, "The New Church Organ," and "The Bravest Battle Ever Fought."

The meeting closed by singing one verse of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Moral Breakdown Result of Repeal Says Head of WCTU

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 4—(AP)—Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, said today a general moral breakdown, which she asserted follows repeal, would bring a quick return of prohibition.

Mrs. Smith told the closing session of the Illinois convention, government control of liquor is not possible.

"There is no such thing as control," she said. "Only national abolition of liquor traffic will be effective."

She declared the saloon and its kindred spirits, gambling and vice, will cause another prohibition amendment to be passed.

"He always traded on the big names of the firms he had worked for before," Jones would say. "Well, if he has worked for Smith and Co., I guess he must be good."

"Do you see what I mean? Mack pointed his way along and when the showdown came he had no resource in himself. I think I'd rather you failed in Latin and couldn't go on with your law, than to feel you need some artificial prop that will let you down."

"Maybe it isn't best for a fellow," admitted David. "I guess it's silly to pretend you're smarter than you are. You'll be found out anyway sometime or other."

He laid the little book on the table and went up to finish his jacking.

Bluffing in School Bad Habit For Boy

By Olive Roberts Barton

"I think you had better leave it here," said David's father quietly as the boy exhibited the newly purchased "pony" with which he hoped to gain knowledge at college.

"What?" David stared incredulously. "You never minded when I used one in high school."

"I know and now I regret it exceedingly. It did help, I'll admit, as it gave you an idea of what it was all about. But I think it's time to stop and travel on your own ticket."

"What's eatin' you, Pop? I have some wits. I know how to study and everything. I get the other things all right, don't I?" Lots of schools approve of them, ponies, I mean, and anyway I only need it now to save time."

"Then you don't need it at all. Listen, Dave. It isn't so much that you are getting help in a subject that bothers you, but it is for another reason that I am asking you not to take it along."

"What's that?" asked the boy curiously.

"I don't want you to be like your Uncle Mack."

The Fourflusher.

"Uncle Mack? My stars how could I be like him? If I'd had his good job, all the good jobs he's had, I'd be doing something about it now instead of lying around telling everybody how good I was and moaning like a sick calf because I could only get fifteen a week in a printing office."

"It's all Mack is worth," remarked his father reflectively.

"Uncle Mack. All he's worth? Why, he's made as high as four thousand a year. He has had lots of positions that paid him that."

"Your Uncle Mack was the sweetest little boy God ever made."

Continued the man as though Dick had not spoken. "He was the baby of the family. But he hated work or any kind of worry and all through his boyhood things were excused and made as easy for him as possible."

"People liked him so well he was not only permitted to soldier when the rest of us had to work like Trojans, but it seemed as though someone was always boosting him beyond his deserts. When he got through school, old Mr. Wick gave him a place in his bank over a lot of other fellows who knew the work. Mack didn't know a thing and never tried to learn. He had to fourflush his way. He learned what he thought was more useful than banking. David, he learned to bluff."

Lacked Background for Success.

"He lost out eventually, but the next job was easy to get with the name of the bank behind him. Mr. Wick kept silence, but it would have been better for Mack if the truth had been told. One job succeeded another, sometimes even at a bigger salary than before. But I always knew he was skating on thin ice, that is, on his good clothes, good looks and good fellowship. There was no background, nothing he had gotten himself. The more he pretended to know it all the more money he made for awhile."

"He always traded on the big names of the firms he had worked for before. Jones would say, 'Well, if he has worked for Smith and Co., I guess he must be good.'"

"Do you see what I mean? Mack pointed his way along and when the showdown came he had no resource in himself. I think I'd rather you failed in Latin and couldn't go on with your law, than to feel you need some artificial prop that will let you down."

"Maybe it isn't best for a fellow," admitted David. "I guess it's silly to pretend you're smarter than you are. You'll be found out anyway sometime or other."

He laid the little book on the table and went up to finish his jacking.

Wilson Ortgiesen To Broadcast Sunday

Wilson B. Ortgiesen of this city has received the honor of presenting the first broadcast of the huge organ located in Presser Hall of Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington. The instrument has been enlarged considerably so that it now ranks as one of the largest concert-organs in the middle west. The broadcast will be sent by remote control to the studios of station WJBC, and broadcast through the regular channel of 1200 kilocycles, and by short-wave to other parts of the country. The broadcast will take place at 1:30 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 6th.

Consideration for Others Foundation For Early Training

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Destructiveness in little children is a natural thing, born of curiosity and impulses of the mind that say, "Learn, learn." The first phases of "destruction" are "construction," actually, or can be interpreted. It is a definite stage of very early childhood and instinctively we know it, I think. Who would spank a baby for throwing his rattle on the floor?

This instinct for destruction holds pretty well all through life but is particularly strong until the fifth year. By this time the child has reason to help him out. He can be disciplined to see the light as reason advances.

SAVAGE ETHIOPIA?

Mussolini says that Ethiopia is a land of savages and needs Italy's civilizing influence and now he is civilizing the Ethiopians. He civilized 1,700 of them, mostly women and children, at one fell swoop, so the news dispatches say, in his opening move in the African war. (We hope it will stay an African war.) They will stay civilized, too, because they are dead. Massacred by Italy's civilizers, bombing airplanes, flying over unprotected villages and dropping bombs and spreading death and destruction and terror.

Mussolini has spent months moving a couple of hundred thousand troops and a great mass of military equipment to the Ethiopian border lines and now he says that Ethiopia forced this war by their war-like and aggressive spirit and their menace to the Italian army in Africa. What an absurd statement.

Wonder what the African savages think of the white men who want to "civilize" them and start out by bombing non-combatant, unprotected groups of homes. There seems to be a trace of the old primitive savagery left among the "advanced and civilized" white folks.

HOOVER DAM DEDICATED

A Salt Lake City newspaper recently published an editorial expressing the hope that when President Roosevelt dedicated the big dam south of Las Vegas he would call it by its original name, "Hoover Dam." The editor's hopes were doomed to disappointment, however, for the president dedicated the Hoover Dam as "Boulder Dam."

The Salt Lake City editorial reads as follows: President Franklin D. Roosevelt will pass through Utah Sunday to inspect the big dam south of Las Vegas, Nev. The original site of this gigantic undertaking was Boulder canyon, but the final decision upon which the contract was awarded was to build the dam in Black canyon, some 20 miles down the river. It was designated in the plans and specifications as "Hoover dam," in honor of the engineer-president, who was active and instrumental in securing a settlement of differences between the basin states and in starting the actual work.

According to official records, the project was called "Hoover dam," by which appellation it was known to the workmen, the contractors, the lawmakers and the general public, until the present secretary of the interior deliberately and arbitrarily changed the title to "Boulder dam." There was no geographical or legitimate reason for substituting a misnomer for an appropriate name.

When President Roosevelt stops to view the dam and reservoir, the first of the coming week, he will have an opportunity to display that liberality and breath of mind with which the American public, regardless of party affiliations, has accredited him. He may rectify a wrong, erase an affront, allay partisan feeling and set an example in bigness and generosity which always appeals to thinking people. He may disconcert opposition, win approval and cherish the consciousness of performing a noble deed by dedicating the work as "Hoover dam."

It is a mammoth achievement, inaugurated with great expectations, performed with prodigious industry and should be dedicated with a spirit and a vision as big as the task and the result. Nothing is ever lost by being magnanimous. But reprisals and retaliation are often evoked by such narrowness as that which changed the name of "Hoover dam." The president is confronted by an opportunity which may not pass his way again.

BOOMS FOR LINDBERGH

Now and then somebody proposes Colonel Lindbergh for the presidential or vice presidential nomination on the republican ticket. This is notwithstanding the fact that the constitution of the United States provides that no person shall be president unless he shall have attained the age of 35, and that the colonel will not be 35 until about two weeks after the next president is inaugurated.

Beyond that, while extermination of the socialistic setup in Washington would be worth whatever it cost, we should regret to sacrifice Colonel Lindbergh's popularity on the altar of politics.

The colonel has been burned by all the testing irons known to hard-boiled newspaper reporters who are aware of the fickleness of the public. But hopes that he would do the wrong thing and that the tide would turn against him were futile. He didn't do the wrong thing and for eight years the public has held him in highest esteem.

It is our suspicion that there are numerous publicists in the east who would gleefully turn their hands to slapping down this hero, once the time seemed ripe. Office-seeking would offer that opportunity. Within twenty-four hours after his nomination there would be organized enmity as strong as the organization of the opposing political party. Mud batteries that had been used for other purposes would be turned upon him. All this for no other reason than that he was a candidate for office instead of an explorer of new fields of science.

Those are the ways of popular government. Statues on one day, hemlock the next.

Perhaps those who are desirous of ignoring the constitution when it is in the way would overlook the small matter of minimum age fixed for a president, but it depends largely upon whose ox is gored.

THE TINY TIES
Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The Tiny girls had quite a task. Said Scouty, "I would like to ask you both to let me take your places, if you get tired out."

"I've tasted lots of jam before, and I would like to taste some more. Gee, I could quickly pick the best of all, without a doubt."

"Oh, you just want a chance to eat. You know this tasting is a treat," said Doty. "We won't tire out till we've tasted every bit."

"You Tines, though can stick around. Some real kind person may be found who made some of this jam, and she may give you some of it."

The Tines then heard Duncy roar, "Hurray! That's well-worth waiting for. Please hurry with your judging. Then we'll know who wins the prize."

Another Tiny cried, "Dear me! You two girls are a sight to see. You've smeared jam on your faces, from your chins up to your eyes."

On went the tasting, quite a while, and then wee Goldy, with a smile, said, "Well we've sampled every jar. Now we will pick the best."

They soon agreed, and named their choice. And then they heard a woman's voice. "Oh, thank you, tots, for saying mine is better than the rest."

A man walked up to her. Said he, "I'm just as pleased as I can be to give you this blue ribbon as the winner of first place."

The woman thanked him. Then she cried, "You two girls stick right by my side. I'm going to give you something." Then a smile spread 'cross her face.

Nearby she reached a basket of fine lunch. She said, "I know you'll love the sandwiches and things in here. Now run and eat your fill."

"Invite the boys to join you, too. There is enough for all of you." "Oh, will we help them eat it?" Duncy cried. "You bet we will!"

The Tines have a fine spread in the next story.

This week Oregon has a vegetable throwing epidemic.

The other night the high school baseball team invaded Mt. Morris and put on a demonstration of jeers, cat calls and automobile horns for the benefit of the Mt. Morris high school team. Not wishing to be outdone, the Mt. Morris team dropped in on the Oregon team Tuesday night and unloaded a bushel of nice ripe tomatoes and commenced not only to bombard the local team but also the business district and automobiles and anyone unlucky enough to get in the way. Panic was everywhere until Deputy Sheriffs Sam Geary and Joe Fletcher arrived on the scene and rounded up four of the five ring leaders, the other one having run for home. Today, however, all five were present and received a severe scolding from the police officials. However, the epidemic spread to the Oregon grade school, where the students had a free-for-all, throwing over-ripe water and muskmelons and other vegetables. This fracas also ended in severe scoldings and scrubbing and cleaning up the mess they created.

Glenora Brown spent Tuesday afternoon in Byron visiting friends. Mrs. Grace Beck motored to Stillman Valley today on business.

Mrs. Lillian Woolridge motored to Aurora and with relatives will continue to Port Myers, Fla., where they will spend two weeks on both pleasure and business.

PAW PAW 9; STEWARD 9

By Dick Meade

In a hard fought battle the Paw Paw nine tied a tough Steward outfit in eight innings the score being 9 to 9. Badly beaten in the early part of the game the locals staged a big rally in the seventh and tied the score. In the final inning neither team scored. The big rally started when Crouch walked, went to third on Ulrey's smash and then stole home. This set the ball rolling and seven runs scored, deadlocking the game. Ulrey, Paw Paw slugger, drew three passes, singled in the big seventh and struck out in his other appearance to lead the Paw Paw hitting honors. His batting average for the season is .500. The score:

Paw Paw	ab	r	h
H. Douglas, ss	5	1	1

WILDCATS GET FAVORED POST PURDUE GAME

Choices Made By Dopesters for Grid Winners

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
A. P. Sports Writer.

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A few football shots in the dark (or at least in a deep twilight.)

Princeton - Pennsylvania: This looks like the best game of the day. An extremely uncertain ballot for Penn.

Northwestern-Purdue: You might as well play blind man's bluff as pick this one. The Wildcats seem to rate an edge.

Tennessee-North Carolina: This observer has a hunch the Tarheels will get revenge for last year's defeat.

Washington & Lee-Duke: The ballot goes to Duke.

California-St. Mary's: Rushing for the bomb-proof shelters. California.

Texas A. & M-Temple: It's a long trip for Pop Warner's Owls, but the Easterners look like winners just the same.

Rice-Duquesne: Can't get beyond Rice.

No Handkerchief.

Columbia - Virginia Military: Lachrymose Lou Little of Columbia should have no need for a handkerchief.

Fordham-Boston College: Annually this is one of the East's closest games. It probably will be again, but Fordham gets the nod.

Army-William & Mary: The Virginians had no luck with the Navy last week and tangling with the Army immediately afterward comes under the general heading of a big mistake.

Carnegie Tech-Notre Dame: The Tartan's narrow squeak with Case last week indicates they're in for a trouncing.

George Washington - Alabama: Going out on the well-known limb. Tuffy Leemans and George Washington by a nose.

Navy-Mercer: The Tars look much too good.

Villanova - Western Maryland: One vote for Villanova.

Washington & Jefferson-Pittsburgh: Despite Pitt's poor showing against Waynesburg, the Panthers should win handily.

Michigan-Michigan State: The dope points to Michigan State.

Ohio State-Kentucky: From this corner, it seems Ohio can win this one by sheer force of numbers, if by no other method.

Wisconsin-Marquette: A stab in the dark, Wisconsin.

Iowa State-Nebraska: It will be a terrible shock if Lloyd Cardwell and the other Cornhuskers lose this one.

Louisiana State-Texas: An extremely tight ballot for Texas.

Indiana Favored.

Indiana-Centre: Indiana.

Illinois-Washington University: Despite Illinois' beating by Ohio University, here's a vote of confidence in the Illini.

Arkansas-Texas Christian: A nod in Christian's direction.

South Carolina-North Carolina State: It looks like a good year for State.

Georgia Tech-Sewanee: The Engineers of Tech.

Tulane-Auburn: Tulane.

Oregon-Utah: Oregon.

Oregon State-UCLA: UCLA, but the Bruins probably will be hard-pressed.

San Francisco-Stanford: Stanford will have to fight for this one.

Maryland-Virginia Poly: Maryland.

President Boy Scouts Speaker at Sterling Meet

WALTER W. HEAD

President of the Boy Scouts of America National Council, will address Scouters and friends of Scouting at the annual meeting and banquet of the Blackhawk Council to be held in the Sterling Coliseum, Monday, October 7.

Head is prominent in banking circles, and is now president of a large insurance corporation in St. Louis. He has been president of the Boy Scouts for six years and spends much of his time helping with Scout affairs.

A business meeting will be held at 6 P. M. followed by the banquet open to the public at 7 P. M. A large crowd from northern Illinois is expected to attend.

FIRST SHOTS OF PRO GOLF MEET FIRED TODAY

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Big guns of the professional golfing ranks, including the open champions of four countries, fired their best shots here today in quest of the $5,000 prize money in the Indianapolis open tournament.

Par golf was necessary to gain the first round leadership. Half the huge field, opening the play yesterday, was led by Abe Espinosa, Chicago professional, whose one-over par 71 gave him a temporary lead by three strokes. Most of the first-day shotmakers encountered trouble from the strong, chilly wind.

Two members of the British Ryder Cup team, William Cox and Alfred Padgham, equalled par 70 in practice rounds yesterday.

Three open champions were placed in the same threesome today—Sam Parks, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Alfred Perry of England and Gene Kunes of Northtown, Pa., who hold the American, British and Canadian titles, respectively.

Government to Give Aid to Striking Miners in Four States

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The door was open today for striking coal miners in four states to receive federal relief "on the basis of need."

Aubrey Williams, acting relief administrator, told a group of union officials discrimination against coal miners seeking relief would not be tolerated. He said the relief administration was not interested in the merits of the dispute between operators and miners in Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri, but would grant relief where relief was needed.

A. L. Lewis, international representative of the United Mine Workers, dispatched to union presidents in the strike areas a report on what Williams had said. He said his report would be used as a basis for relief applications from individual miners.

Referee—Joe Magidson (Michigan). Umpire—F. H. Young (Illinois Wesleyan). Field Judge—Howard (Illinois Wesleyan). Head Linesman—Don Henry (Kenyon).

Kickoff at 2:30. Scout parade enters stadium at 1:30.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 4.—The Illinois football team is braced for a desperate struggle against a powerful Washington university eleven that is confident of realizing its long-cherished ambition of defeating the Illini.

One of the largest early season crowds in local annals is expected to travel to the stadium for the combat.

More than 5,000 Boy Scouts will be guests, parading into the stadium behind bands and drum corps and staging their traditional flag ceremony.

Last at Home

The game is the last at home for the Illini until the Iowa Dad's day engagement Oct. 26 as Bob Zupke leads them to Los Angeles next week for the Southern California game and no game is arranged for Oct. 19.

Such is the strength of the Bears from St. Louis that Zupke, instead of being able to take the Washington game in its stride, has been obliged to devote practice this week to preparations for the Saturday battle instead of giving the time he would like to the Southern California contest.

Ever since the Illini reported Monday they have shown a new spirit that has encouraged the coach. Zupke has had to reconstruct his backfield on account of the loss of Les Lindberg and will probably start Lowell Spurgeon, sophomore halfback from Centralia in the left halfback position. Spurgeon's running and passing against Ohio were big factors in the last-quarter drive of the Illini which came within an ace of pushing over a touchdown.

The definite loss of Howard Carson, fullback, by scholastic ineligibility, has necessitated the moving of John Lippold from guard to the backfield, where the Aurora junior will probably be seen at some time Saturday.

Bill Bennis, brother of Chuck Bennis, last year's star guard and co-captain, is likely to get his chance at end. The first line of reserves will include such players as Contwell, Wright, Skarda, Kusz, ends; Grieve, Jansen, Bradley, Charlie, halfbacks; Wilson, Gloeck, fullbacks; Gano, Sailer, quarterbacks; Berner, Carpenter, Holzman, tackle; Cook, Knox, Fay, guards; Frederick and Hrabovsky, centers.

Outweigh Illini

Washington's line will outweigh the Illini an average of 12 pounds at least, according to the published weights of the Bear line which averages 192 pounds while the Illini can hardly reach 180.

Five players from the state of Illinois will probably appear in the opening Bear lineup: Hobbs and Hafell, Johnston City; Konvicka, Granite City; Zboyovski, Bend; Hudgens, Marion and Bukant, Dixon. Don Wimberly, veteran fullback, who will probably share responsibilities with Bukant is from Marion.

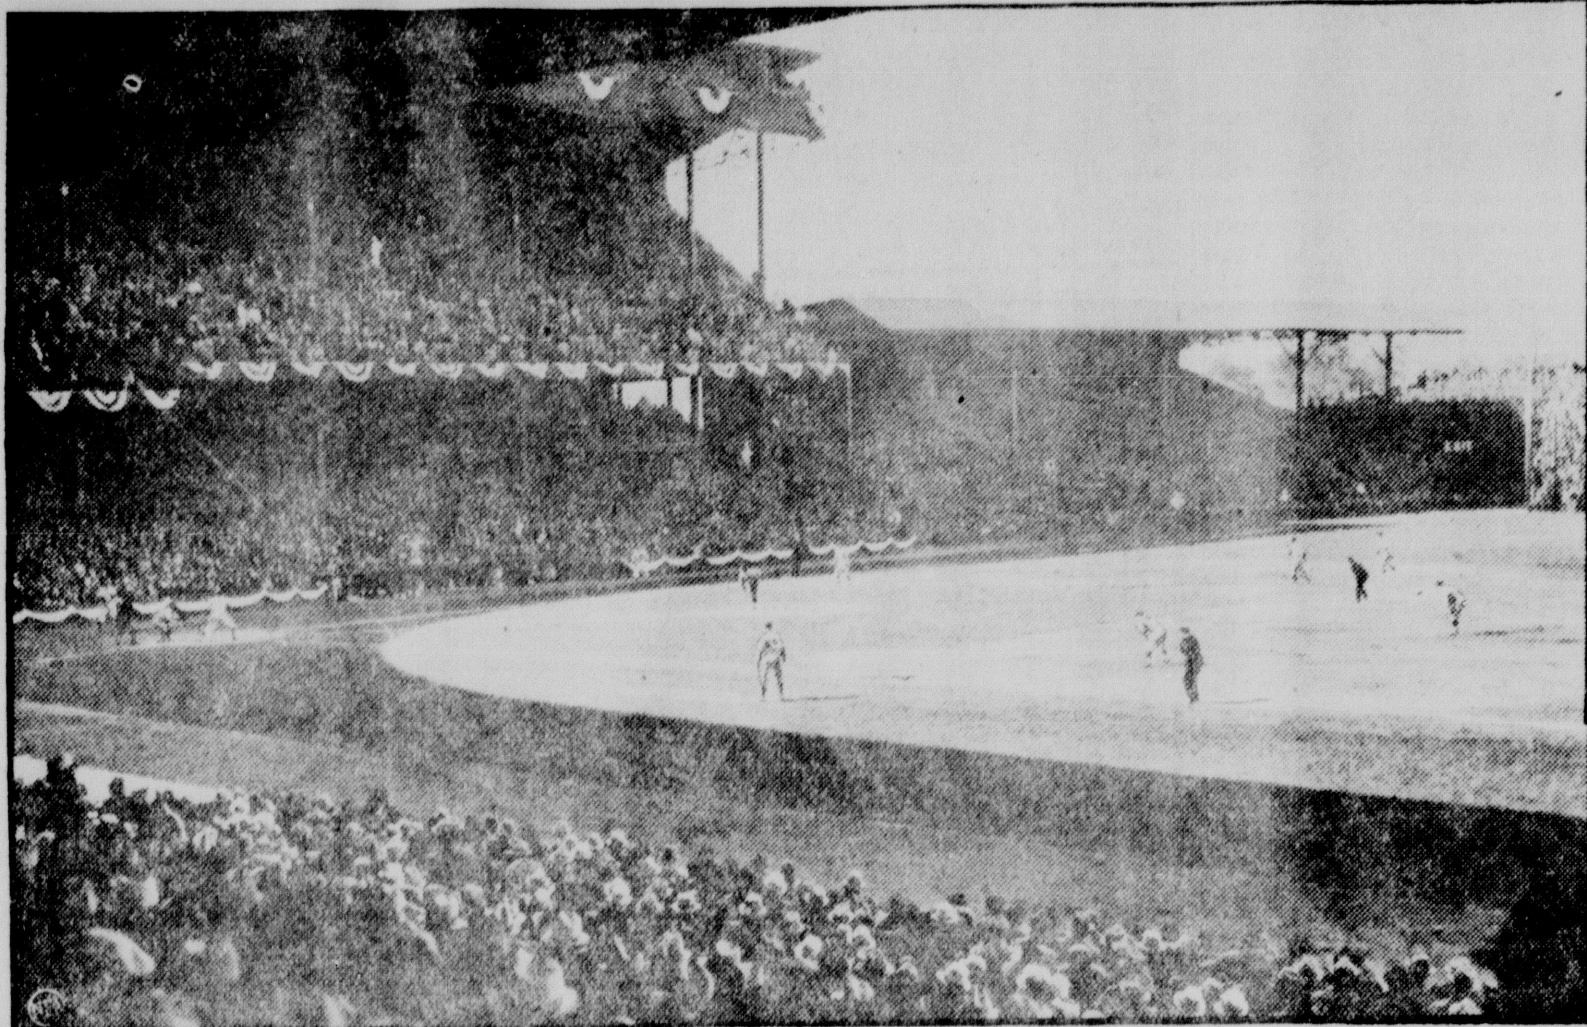

Other state boys are Roy Martin, center, Hillsboro and Tom Ozment, Harrisburg, who are lettermen.

Washington has played six games with the Illini but has never triumphed. Last year at St. Louis it required a last-minute march to snatch victory from the Bears by a score of 12 to 7.

The Washington-Illinois scores are as follows:

1892—Illinois 22; Washington 0.
1901—Illinois 21; Washington 0.
1902—Illinois 44; Washington 0.

WHEN TIGERS' POWERFUL PUNCH BEAT CUBS IN SECOND BATTLE

Forty-seven thousand rabid Detroit baseball fans jammed Navin Field to see their prides take the measure of the Chicago Cubs, 8-3, in the second game of the world series. Here is part of the huge crowd watching the action as Gehring came to bat in the first inning with Cochrane on second. Charley came through with a single to score Manager Mike, and Greenberg followed with a homer that scored the fourth counter of the inning.

Catching one of Charley Root's fast ones squarely on his heavy bludgeon, Hank Greenberg, Tigers' big first sacker, parked the ball in the left field stands for a homer in the first inning of the second game of the world series, won by Detroit, 8-3. Greenberg is shown cantering over the plate as teammates congratulate him.

ROOT CONSOLED FOR DEFEAT OF CUBS THURSDAY

Pappy May Get Another Chance Later in the Week

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Eavesdropping as the special train rolled onward through the night with the Chicago Cubs:

Charlie Grimm, his big grin still there, walks over to down-cast Charlie Root and tells him it's all right.

"We'll beat them with Bill Lee today and shoot 'em some of Larry French tomorrow," says Charlie. "Warneke will pitch Sunday and then, Charlie, you get another chance if we still got to play a game."

Catcher Gabby Hartnett joins the fast collecting group around Root's table in the dining car and tells the crowd that Root had a lot of stuff in yesterday's game.

"You never were better, Charlie," says Gabby. "You just threw two bad balls—to Cochrane and to Greenberg—and that's all that beat you."

A Little Bad Blood

Manager Grimm admits there is a little bad blood running between the two clubs, but waves aside any talk of reprisals against the Tigers, figuring the Cubs already have the best of the exchanges and vocal baiting.

Hugh Casey, Cub rookie pitcher, joins the newspaper boys.

"We'll give those guys something to worry about at Wrigley Field," warns Casey at the mound. "We've won 36 out of our last 40 games here."

"Yeh," continues one of the scribes, "and the last time you got beat was a month ago today (Oct. 4) when Lee was beaten by Gene Schott of Cincinnati."

Stanley Hack bets another newspaperman one dollar that he won't strike out once more during the series, another reporter bets compatriot that French will outpitch any man on either team in his first start tomorrow. Hack holds the stakes.

Tex Carleton says the Cubs won't have any trouble with Elden Auker.

"He pitches just like I do," explains Tex, who is slated to relieve Lee, if needed today.

Mendota High Has Taken Insurance on Grid Athletes

An insurance policy covering thirty Mendota high school football players was taken out by the high school board last week.

The policy which will cover boys on all injuries received in auto accidents to and from contests out of town, is the first to be taken out by any high school in this vicinity.

It is the first time in the history of Mendota high school that an insurance policy has been written on any of the athletes. Although Mendota has never suffered any serious accidents to its athletes, the board felt that a play safe, the policy should be taken out.

Bob Olin Signed To Defend Title

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Signing of a 15-round title bout here Oct. 31 between Bob Olin, world light heavyweight champion, and John Henry Lewis, California Negro contender, was announced today.

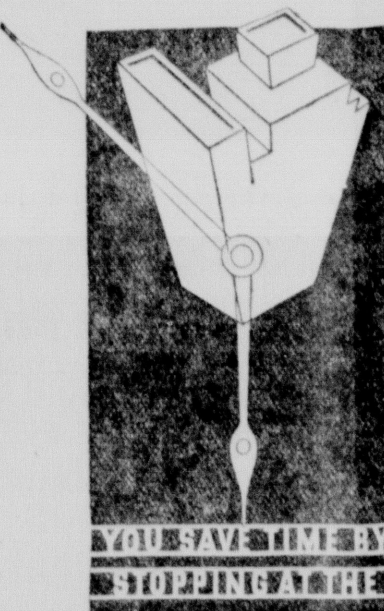

The fight, promoted by Benny Greenberg of St. Louis and Lou Raymond of Pittsburgh, will be the first professional title match here since Abe Attel and Tommy Sullivan scrapped for the featherweight championship during the 1904 World Fair.

Olin who gained his crown with a decisive 15-round victory over a Slapping Maxie Rosenbloom, lost a decision to Lewis on the West Coast last winter in a non-title fight.

A 400-mile insurmountable flying test, the longest ever undertaken by the U. S. Army aviators, was successfully completed recently at Hamilton Field, army bombing base.

During last June, 57 foreign countries purchased manufactured products of American aviation companies.

WILDCATS VS. PURDUE GAME TOPS BIG TEN

Night Contest To Be Viewed With Interest

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Another chapter in Western conference football history will open tomorrow night when Purdue and Northwestern touch off the championship campaign with the Big Ten's first battle under the flood lights.

The shift from day to night was made because of tomorrow's World Series struggle between the Cubs and Tigers, and the experiment will be watched with the keenest of interest by other conference institutions.

The Billmakers, never far off the title pace since winning the honors in 1929, tackle Northwestern without a game under their belts. Coach Noble Kizer has a huge squad, however, and reports from the drill field indicate that Purdue has the speed and personnel to be troublesome as usual.

The Wildcats started last week with a 14 to 0 victory over De Paul, but appeared slow and uncertain. The week's practice, however, has brought a big improvement.

Decisive Battle

The loser tomorrow night may consider itself virtually out of the championship battle, for one defeat usually means elimination.

Of secondary interest only to the Northwestern-Purdue game on the schedule are the opening assign-

BLEACHER FANS MILLING NEAR WRIGLEY GATE

Well-Bundled and Noisy Crowd is Restless One

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The backbone of baseball fandom—the bleacher customers—stepped up with $1.10 each to purchase the 12,000 sun seats necessary to produce a capacity crowd of 50,000 today as the Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs renewed their battle for World Series loot.

The backbone was a big, noisy, well-bundled one, so big and noisy that 50 policemen were detailed to watch over the mfron last night to 7 o'clock this morning. At midnight, more than 5,000 disdaintful of freezing temperatures, were lined up—to some extent. At least the coppers tried to keep them in line, but they milled about, attempting to sneak up ahead, until the "law" was almost frantic.

"Oldest Settler."

No one sneaked in ahead of the oldest settler, Art Feisch of Milwaukee, who had been parked with several comforts of home, in position number one. His cot and tent were shoved against the booth, and he was so solidly planted that no serious attempts were made to dislodge him. Right behind him was

Every man of them past 60 years, they lined up before the thousands at the Mountain State forest festival, to shoot for the West Virginia muzzle loading rifle title.

The guns were finished to a great brightness and the ramrods were ready for action as the first of the hillmen stepped to the line. The big crowd was unusually silent and the crack of the ancient weapons could be heard echoing from the nearby hills.

Today was exclusively for the highland folk at this sixth annual festival for autumn.

The government of Australia has purchased Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's "Southern Cross" and will place it on exhibition.

Highland Folk To Forest Festival

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Sixty aging mountaineers, their eyes still keen enough, however, to hit many a far away mark, demonstrated today that the "ol' muzzle loader" is still a gun that is a gun.

Of secondary interest only to the Northwestern-Purdue game on the schedule are the opening assignments for Ohio State and Michigan. Ohio State will have an opportunity to demonstrate how well-founded are the reports of great power and finesse, against the scrappy Kentucky Wildcats at Columbus. Whether Michigan is about to again become a major power will be determined with the cooperation of Michigan State college's strong aggregation at Ann Arbor.

Indiana will start its second season under the direction of Alvin (Bo) McMillin, against Centre college, the Hoosier coach's alma mater, at Bloomington, Illinois, defeated by Ohio University last week, tackles Washington, University of St. Louis; Wisconsin, upset by South Dakota State in its opener, meets Marquette at Madison; Iowa plays South Dakota at Iowa City, and Chicago entertains Carroll college of Waukesha, Wis.

ROTH BOXES TONY CANZONERI TODAY

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A couple of first-class fighting men, Tony Canzoneri and Al Roth, meet tonight to see whether the pupil has attained a higher degree of boxing efficiency than his former master.

The lightweight crown waits at the end of the 15-round trail for the squatty Roth, if he can out-punch the champion for whom he once served as a sparring partner.

Canzoneri has held the feather, junior lightweight and junior welterweight crown once each and the lightweight, twice.

Roth earned his place as outstanding contender a few months ago when he decisively defeated both Leonard Del Genio and Davey Day, the latter a stablemate of Ross.

TROUBLES A PLENTY
Pontiac Ill.—While fishing in the Vermilion river on Sept. 28 Harold Legg, 24, was struck by a falling limb and knocked into the water. He suffered a basal skull fracture, a brain concussion, a ruptured ear drum and a long scalp wound. Now Legg, who is still unconscious, has contracted pneumonia.

MUST STAND TRIAL
Geneva—Judge Frank W. Shepherd of the Kane county Circuit Court has overruled motions to quash indictments against four officers of the defunct W. W. Armstrong Investment Company of Elgin which failed with a loss of $200,000 in 1934. The four who will stand trial on Dec. 2 are H. Guy Griffith, D. L. Armstrong, Charles Louis Mombelle and Donald J. Armstrong.

The hatless fad has swept through cities and towns of Spain to such an extent that 90 per cent of the country's hatmakers are idle.

DIXON TURKEY GROWERS TOUR IN MINNESOTA

Frank Keane and Tom Mitchell Enjoyed Inspection Trip

Tom Mitchell and Frank Keane, prominent turkey raisers of this vicinity, have returned home from an interesting three day motor tour in Minnesota, where they inspected some of the largest turkey farms in the central west. Turkey ranches in the vicinity of Lewiston, Winona and Rushford were visited and inspected. A group of more than 300 turkey raisers and feed manufacturers enjoyed the three day outing. Wednesday evening they were entertained with a banquet at Lewiston, which was followed by an interesting program.

Both Dixon men have had several years experience in turkey raising. Mr. Keane operates a very successful farm north of the city and Mr. Mitchell is interested in two large farms. He disposed of his holdings in the farm north and west of Amboy some months ago and became interested in the raising of turkeys on a farm in Palmyra township, where he has met with great success.

Visited Local Farms
Some weeks ago, Mr. Mitchell started a turkey farm of his own where he expects to raise more than 10,000 birds next spring. He is associated with Frank Adams who resides on the Jves farm, three miles east of Dixon near the Black Hawk Trail, where at the present time model buildings are under construction for use in the raising of several thousand turkeys. Mr. Mitchell has contracted for 10,000 eggs and 1000 poult of the bronze and Narragansett varieties to be raised on the farm east of Dixon next spring. During the past season, he has experimented with different breeds of turkeys on this farm and has had excellent success. Numerous turkey breeders and raisers have inspected the new Mitchell ranch which is known as the Rock River Valley turkey farms and inspected the modern buildings and arrangements for the successful breeding and raising of select turkeys.

Arizmendi Meets Christy, Defense of Feather Crown

Chicago, Oct. 4—(AP)—Alberto (Baby) Arizmendi, Los Angeles Mexican who is recognized in some places as featherweight champion, and Jimmy Christy, clever Chicago youngsters, will clash tonight in the ten round feature of the Chicago Stadium's opening boxing show of the season.

The prize for the winner, if Matchmakers Nate Lewis and Jim Mullen can arrange, will be a title bout with Freddie Miller. Miller is recognized as 126-pound champion by the National Boxing association, while Arizmendi holds the distinction in New York, California and Mexico. Christy, who has been fighting professionally for about a year, holds decisions over Lew Feldman and Mike Belleose, among others. Bobby Pacheco, El Centro, Calif.

lightweight, and Frankie Wallace of Cleveland, will meet in the ten round semi-final bout.

A petition signed by a number of persons in a circular form is called a "round robin."

PETITION FOR SALE OF REAL ESTATE BY ADMINISTRATOR PUBLICATION NOTICE
 State of Illinois, Lee County, ss. County Court of Lee County.
 To the November Term, A. D. 1935 Catherine Leake, Administrator of the Estate of Raymond Dean Leake, Deceased.

vs. Raymond Leake, Jane Leake, and Maxine Leake
 PETITION TO SELL REAL ESTATE TO PAY DEBTS

Notice is hereby given to the said Raymond Leake, Jane Leake, and Maxine Leake that the said Plaintiff Catherine Leake, administratrix of the Estate of Raymond Dean Leake, deceased, has filed her petition in the said County Court of Lee County, for an order to sell the premises belonging to the Estate of said deceased, or so much of it as may be needed to pay the debts of said deceased, and described as follows, to-wit:

Lot Thirteen (13) and the North Eighteen feet (18 ft.) of Lot Sixteen (16) in Block Nine (9) in Wyman's Addition to the Town (now city) of Amboy, Lee County, Illinois and that a summons has been issued out of said Court against you, returnable at the November Term, A. D. 1935, of said Court, to be held on the Fourth day of November A. D. 1935, at the Court House in Dixon in Lee County, Illinois.

Now, unless you, the said Raymond Leake, Jane Leake, and Maxine Leake shall personally be and appear before said County Court of Lee County, on the first day of a term thereof, to be held at Dixon in said County, on the Fourth day of November 1935, and plead, answer or demur to the said complainant's petition filed therein, the same and the matters and things therein charged and stated will be taken as confessed, and a decree entered against you according to the prayer of said bill.

Seeing Daddy Off to the War

A tinge of sadness seems to mar the usually merry scene of a father romping with his young son as this Italian soldier waiting to board a transport for the East African front devotes last precious minutes to giving his boy a pickaback ride. Both the unsmiling lad, daddy's helmet flopping over his face, and his grave warrior-father seem affected by the parting.

CHARGE HORNER ORGANIZATIONS BACKING "POLL"

Democratic Representative Attacks "Better Government" Crowd

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A poll of 50,000 "rank and file" Illinois voters was being taken today to learn which way political winds are blowing in the state.

Business reply postcards, carrying the return address of the Illinois League for Better Government, were being mailed to all counties except Cook, and asked the voters to indicate whether there has been a political change of heart in their community and if there has been a change, what caused it.

Dr. G. M. Harper of Springfield, secretary of the league, said the league sought a completely impartial check on political conditions in Illinois. He said:

"Non-Partisan Move"
 "We hold no brief with any political party or any faction within a party."

Rep. Frank W. McClure, Abingdon Democrat, however, asserted in a statement to newspapers that the Horner administration was behind the poll. He said the hotel room to which the cards were to be returned was "the headquarters of Bill Walsh, patronage dispenser for the Horner administration and disclosed the straw vote as simply an administrative effort to deceive the voters."

Walsh denied his office "had anything whatever to do with the poll." On the same floor are headquarters of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The post card questionnaire carried a statement that the league, "a non-partisan organization, is making a poll to ascertain the sentiment of the voters toward the state and federal administrations."

From Phone Directories.
 McClure said the poll, "if it's non-partisan, is in poor company." "If it isn't non-partisan, it might be well that the voters were informed."

Persons to whom the cards were sent were selected from telephone directories. No business firms or professional men other than lawyers were included. The league asked: which party the voter supported in 1930 and 1932, both nationally and in the state; which party he favored now; what action of either party had impressed him most during the last three years, and what the attitude was in the voters' community toward President Roosevelt and Governor Horner.

LaSalle Hotel Sold To Insurance Firm

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The LaSalle hotel in Chicago's loop has been sold in Federal court to the LaSalle-Madison Hotel Company, subsidiary of the Des Moines, Ia., Central Life Assurance Society, for the equivalent of $2,100,000.

The Des Moines company, owner of a majority of the bonds and stock of the property, was the only bidder. The hotel had been in receivership since 1932.

Thurlof G. Essington, trustee in bankruptcy for the hotel company, said bondholders outside of the insurance firm would be offered $210,000 in cash, or about five cents on the dollar, but would have the option of taking common stock of the new company.

The hotel was built by the Stevens family, once owner of the Stevens hotel and the Illinois Life.

Chicago Policeman Slain by Robbers

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—One of three payroll robbers shot and killed Policeman William Springfield Thursday in a tunnel of the busy Union Railroad station, in downtown Chicago.

Springfield, 50 years old with 20 years of service on the Chicago force, died in a vain attempt to defend a $5,000 payroll of the Harvey restaurant in the station. The bandits fled with the cash in a small satchel.

The shooting took place in sight of hundreds of travelers in the huge station.

Springfield had been taken from his regular post as a traffic policeman to guard the money transfer.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 JEAN DUNN pretty 21-year-old secretary and BOBBY WALLACE young automobile salesman, spend an evening at The Golden Feather night club

ART LANNING, the proprietor introduces SANDY HARKINS to them. Sandy explains he is in Dixon on business. He and Jean dance. When he asks if he can telephone her she evades

Later LARRY GLENN, friend of Jean's father, joins Jean and Bobby. Glenn is a lawyer now engaged in government work. Bobby and Jean are both delighted to see him

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER III

AT that moment, "this Harkins guy" was sitting at a table on the far side of the room talking earnestly with two men. One of them was Art Lanning; the other was a small, black-haired man who sat slouched over his glass and kept darting quick, alert glances about the room.

"I'm telling you, that's all," said Lanning. "Never mind where I found out. She comes from a small town downstate, and her father is president of the local bank."

The black-haired man looked sideways at Harkins and grinned. "Can you hear opportunity when it comes knocking?" he asked.

Sandy Harkins grinned back at him.

"Don't rush me," he said. "I only just met her. She's kind of a neat little number, at that."

He let his gaze wander across the room to the table where Jean Dunn was sitting with Bobby Wallace and Larry Glenn.

"Who's the guy with her?" asked the black-haired man suddenly.

"Boy friend," said Sandy.

"No, not him—I mean the older one."

Sandy looked at Larry Glenn.

"Never saw him before," he said.

"He wasn't there when I went over."

The other man took a longer look.

"I don't like his looks," he said unexpectedly.

"What's the matter with him?" asked Sandy.

"I don't know. He just looks kind of like trouble, that's all. Know who he is, Art?"

The proprietor of the night club shook his head.

"He's a new one on me."

The black-haired man turned away and shrugged his shoulders.

"Well," he said, "I don't like his looks."

"Forget it," said Sandy. He turned to Lanning. "What's this girl doing in Dixon?" he asked.

"She's a stenographer, or something," replied Lanning. "Works for Donald Montague, the lawyer."

The other two men raised their eyebrows and looked at one another for a moment.

"Did you say something about opportunity?" asked Sandy, grinning. Lanning looked puzzled and asked, "What about it?"

"Well," said the black-haired man, "we might want to do a little business with this Montague some day, that's all. And if this dame—"

He looked again at Harkins.

"I guess you've got an assignment met, Sandy," he concluded.

ALL unconscious of the fact that she was figuring so extensively

Bobby chuckled. "Jean wanted to go slumming," he said. "She wanted to see life in the raw."

in this mysterious conversation, Jean Dunn rested her chin in her hands and looked fondly at Larry Glenn.

Not only was Larry older and stronger than either Jean or Bobby; he was a familiar person—almost a relative, it seemed. He came from their town, Maplehurst; he knew their parents; they had known him since earliest childhood; and Bobby, as well as Jean, had the feeling that either of them, in case of need, could appeal to him and be sure that whatever needed fixing would be fixed without delay or the asking of needless questions.

"What're you doing now?" asked Jean. "And how come you're in Dixon?"

"Well," said Larry, "I'm a lawyer, you know. Right now I'm doing some work for Uncle Sam, and I just got transferred here."

"You're working for the government?" said Jean. "What sort of work is it, Larry?"

"Well," he said, "the last thing I did was investigate the circumstances of a bankruptcy case in which a business man tried to conceal some $50,000 worth of assets from his creditors. It was dry as dust, and I'm sure you wouldn't care to hear about it. Suppose you tell me what you're doing here."

"But we told you," protested Jean. "I'm working for Mr. Montague, and Bobby's selling autos."

"No, no," said Larry, smiling at her. "I mean here—in the Golden Feather."

Bobby chuckled.

"Jean wanted to go slumming," he said. "She wanted to see life in the raw."

"How do you mean?" asked Jean.

"Oh—," he paused, and took out a cigarette. "You never know just who you're rubbing elbows with. The man at the next table may be a perfectly respectable business man, or he may be a gunman who's wanted for murder in half a dozen different cities. You have no way of knowing."

BOBBY and Jean glanced automatically at the next table, where sat a bald, well-dressed man who could not possibly, under any scheme of things, have been any one but a tired business man out on the prowl.

"Oh, I didn't mean him," Larry amended, laughing. "I mean—well, for example; take this Harkins lad you pointed out to me a few minutes ago. Who's he?"

"He?" echoed Jean uncertainly. "Why, I—I don't know. Mr. Lanning introduced him to me, that's all. And Mr. Lanning is a friend of Mr. Montague. He must be all right, isn't he?"

"I'm not saying that he isn't," said Larry. "For all I know he may be the president of a Christian Endeavor Society or something. My point is just this; if you patronize places of this kind regularly, you meet all sorts of utter strangers in them—and you never have a chance in the world of finding out just who they are. They may be all right, and they may be most decidedly all wrong—and you never know until too late. Let me repeat, I didn't mean anything personal about this Harkins chap. I never saw him before. He may be a very fine young man. My point is that the contacts which you are bound to make in a place like the Golden Feather are bound to be rather mysterious, especially when you're practically a stranger in a big town. And because I've known you two youngsters ever since you used to play hopscotch on the sidewalk in front of my mother's house, I just wanted to warn you."

The two were momentarily sobered. Conversation lagged, for a minute, as they glanced curiously about the room, trying to realize that the people at the tables and on the dance floor might be sinister creatures with lawless and violent backgrounds.

At last Jean chanced to look at the tiny platinum watch on her wrist.

"Heavens!" she gasped. "I didn't know it was so late. Larry, I've got to get home and get to bed. Bobby, you're ready to go, aren't you?"

Larry walked to the door with the two young people, patted them fondly on their shoulders and saw them into a taxicab. As the car rolled away, he stood in the entrance for a moment, looking after it with thoughtful eyes, and the firm line of his mouth was troubled. Then he shrugged his shoulders and walked back into the night club.

Amboy, Polo Open Rock River Loop Grid Play Today

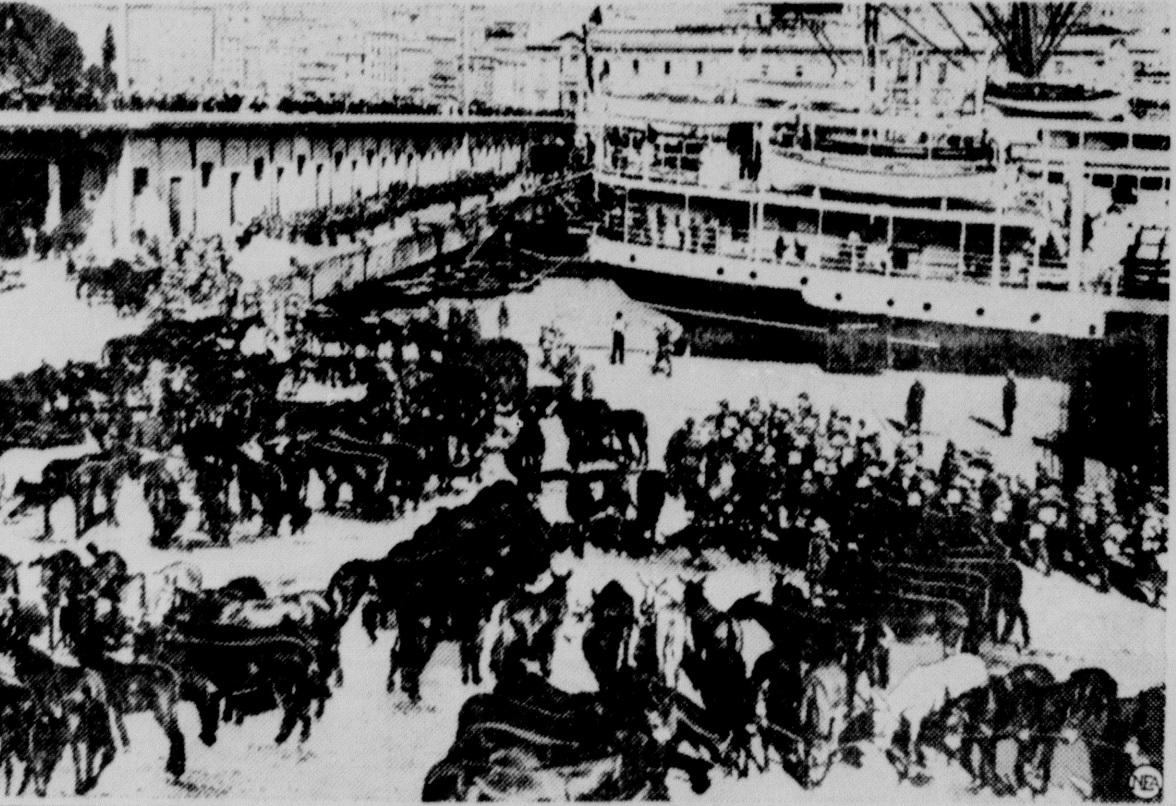

Amboy Township high school met Polo on the former's gridiron in the first Rock River Valley conference tussle for each team this afternoon. The game was called at 2:30 P. M.

Polo and Amboy, always old rivals, were expected to stage another one of their close battles. Polo has already played two stiff games with heavier N. C. I. conference opponents and Amboy opened its season last Saturday against Mendota, losing 7 to 6 only after a hard fight.

Polo's team after several practice skirmishes with Coach C. B. Lindell's Dixon high team opened its season two weeks ago against Belvidere, losing 6 to 6. Last Saturday Sterling Township high's heavy, powerful team which is defeating the N. C. I. title this fall, administered Polo an unmerciful 39 to 6 lacing. With memories of these defeats wiped clean from the Polo slate except for the valued experience gained in playing these larger schools, Polo can enter Rock River Valley competition with a clean conscience and good chances of victory. Needless to say Amboy's Scarlets can do the same.

toward a bachelor of science degree. He is a member of the Butler swimming team and is a graduate of the Dixon high school. There are students from 116 Indiana cities, 24 states, and five foreign countries registered at Indianapolis university this fall.

African Front Beckons Four-Footed 'Warriors'

Expected to be invaluable in helping their Italian masters wage war over the rugged Ethiopian terrain, scores of mules and horses, munching contentedly, are pictured above as they awaited transportation to the African war theater while troops marched across the wharf and curious Genoa crowds looked on from street level. Italy thus continued its feverish war preparations, despite avowals of league powers to act against any aggression.

Physical Defects Due to Shoes Shown in Moving Pictures

The meeting was well attended and the talk most interesting. The speaker had last from the factory and all types of shoes to demonstrate his talk and a moving picture of the foot in action. Some of the main points were that the low heel and the broad toe would soon be the style here as it has already reached the east.

One of his charts listed 53 different physical defects that could be caused and could be corrected by properly fitted shoes. His other charts gave the percentage of foot trouble in high schools and even in the kindergarten grades. In Milwaukee the school board has added lectures on the menace of the high heel and properly fitted shoes as part of their curriculum. It was very surprising the high percentage of troubles found now even among athletes because of a failure to wear a properly fitted shoe when playing on the solid floor of our gymnasiums.
